Vote Against
School Millage
Increase Tuesday

On Tuesday, March 9, Hope district voters will go to the polls to vote for or against a proposed 10-mill tax increase for the local schools.

Your editor suggests that you vote "No."

This comes as no surprise to our readers. Year after year we have pointed out that the school managers sit on their hands at property-assessing time—then scream their heads off for a hike in the millage tax.

If you consistently vote down millage hikes it is very likely the school authorities will finally be compelled to involve themselves in the battle to obtain fair and thorough assessment of property.

Time was when the school people did an honest job in scrutinizing fraudulent assessment statements. When your editor moved here from El Dorado in 1929 there was a ceiling on the millage rate, restricted to a maximum of 18 mills.

Therefore school authorities had no choice but to get out and police assessments.

The great mistake was that we abolished the 18-mill ceiling. With millage unlimited the school managers took their eye off assessments and depended on repeated hikes in the tax rate.

What used to be 18 mills in Hope is now 40 mills—and next Tuesday the schools will be going for a 10-mill hike to 50. The tax on the small-property citizen has increased nearly three times—not so, however, for those who systematically reduce assessments as the millage rises, and conveniently ignore improvements and brand new construction.

The assessment boat is steadily sinking—evidenced by the repeated calls for higher tax millage.

Try saying "No" next Tuesday—and see what happens. For all you know the school folks may suddenly decide to look into the assessing scandal and obtain new revenue from the source they should have been watching all along.

Information Center Is Approved

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House approved today an administration bill to establish a criminal justice and highway safety information center in the state Administration Department.

Approval on a 73-1 vote completed legislative action on the measure, which had been sponsored for the administration by Sen. Harold King of Sheridan.

The center would operate a computer information system to serve the police, courts, correction and highway safety agencies. It would be a central depository of information.

The House approved 83-0 a bill by Sen. Virgil T. Fletcher of Benton to permit the state insurance commissioner to look into the financial structure of insurance holding companies.

Passed 78-0 was a bill by Rep. Charles Condit of Helena that would appropriate $100,000 for the construction of tourist information centers near Harrison, Mammoth Spring, Helena and Lake Village.

The House approved 74-0 a bill by Sen. Bob Douglas of Texarkana that would prescribe safety standards for the transportation of gas by pipeline.

The House has adjourned until 1 p.m. Monday.

Returned for Trial

HELENA, Ark. (AP) —Unice O'Neal, 39, of Helena, who was captured earlier this week in Chicago, is scheduled to be returned to Helena this weekend to stand trial for murder in the slaying of Robert Nathan.

The body of Nathan, 30, of Helena was found near a road inside the Helena city limits early Monday. Authorities said he had been shot twice with a shotgun.

One Death in Search for Kidnapers

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — One student was killed and a dozen troops and students were injured today in a gunfight when troops attempted to enter a university dormitory to search for four kidnapped American airmen and their captors.

The troops surrounded the dormitory at the Middle East Technical University. The students threw dynamite sticks and fired on the troops from windows and the roof.

A commando unit was rushed to the campus and opened up with rifles and automatic weapons on the students. Military helicopters buzzed the roof, scattering the rebellious youths.

Later security officials said the situation was "under control," but the Americans had not been found. "We have one dead and wounded coming in in droves," said a doctor at the military hospital near the campus.

House Gives Bumpers a Full Package

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Reluctantly, the Arkansas House voted Thursday to give Gov. Dale Bumpers the next to last bill in his tax package.

With Speaker Ray S. Smith Jr. of Hot Springs casting the deciding vote, the House passed a bill that would reduce from 2 to 1 per cent the discount that merchants receive for collecting the sales tax for the state.

The bill, passed earlier by the Senate, then went back to the upper chamber for concurrence in a House amendment that would give merchants a discount for bad debts, a change that Bumpers has said he opposes.

In other legislative action, the Senate approved proposed constitutional amendments to lower the voting age to 18, completing legislative action, to rewrite the legislative article of

Figures to Change the Pattern When He Gets His Retirement Nod

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — A man is wisely advised to plan ahead for his retirement. Otherwise, when the time comes for him to give up his daily grind and he has nothing to do, he may curl up and die like a rusty leaf.

This, I trust, will not be my fate. I have a theory that life begins on R-Day—retirement day.

It is my theory that in a civilization most men earn their living doing such boring, humdrum, nitty-gritty tasks that it is hard for them to stay awake let alone keep their self-respect. They become inner hermits who feed their souls on the fun of daydreams, and it is chiefly these daydreams that keep them sane.

My goal on retiring is to change this picture a bit. Instead of remaining a private hermit daydreaming for fun, I want to become a public hermit who daydreams for profit.

My idea is so revolutionary, in a harmless way, that I expect the Ford Foundation or some other organization equally devoted to harmless revolutions, will advance me the funds to put it into effect.

Here's how it shapes up: I buy 1,000 wooded acres on a hillside overlooking a stream meandering lazily through a lovely green valley fruitful with crops.

I clear enough acres to provide space for a swimming pool, a 1,500-car parking lot, and a 125-room rustic lodge. Atop the lodge in neon letters 10 feet tall a sign says:

"Come to Daydream Hideaway, Home of the World's Most Public Hermit."

Before the lodge will be a huge platform, surrounded by glass walls, through which people can watch me sitting in a big wooden chair, rocking and daydreaming.

Tasteful signs will be conspicuously placed about the premises saying:

"Spend a thrilling hour watching the public hermit for only 25 cents, three hours, 50 cents."

"Private consultations at which the public hermit will answer questions, give free advice or predict the future—$5 per minute."

The way I've got it planned, five years after I retire to become a public hermit, I'll be rich enough to retire again and spend the rest of my days counting my loot.

Or, better yet, I'll probably franchise the idea and spread a network of public hermit hideaways around the world. Anyone over 60 who can prove he has a good character and $10,000 in cash will be able to buy a franchise and set himself up as a public hermit. I might even permit a few lady public hermits. Properly supervised, naturally.

Vietnamese Move in on Laos Target

By GEORGE ESPEY
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops just outside Sepone today in preparation for a large-scale assault on the town and airstrip two miles to the west in the heart of the Ho Chi Minh trail supply network.

Sources in Saigon said U.S. helicopters flew the fresh South Vietnamese reinforcements to within three miles of Sepone and that an assault on the enemy transshipment point 25 miles inside Laos was planned.

Lt. Col. Le Thung Hein, a South Vietnamese spokesman in Quang Tri, said the forward-most South Vietnamese infantrymen were 25 to 28 miles deep into Laos and added:

"This is the most significant troop movement in two weeks."

Associated Press Correspondent J.T. Wolkerstorfer reported from Quang Tri that virtually the entire South Vietnamese 2nd Regiment of the 1st Infantry Division had been committed to the Sepone drive, and that the South Vietnamese now have about 20,000 troops in southern Laos.

This new troop movement left South Vietnam's northernmost province of Quang Tri virtually bare of South Vietnamese army forces. Nearly 2,000 more U.S. troops were moved north to guard against a North Vietnamese thrust across the demilitarized zone. This put the entire northern rim of the country in the hands of the American blocking force of 12,000 to 15,000 men.

Sepone, a key point on the Ho Chi Minh trail, has been under heavy U.S. air attack for months, and the town has been reported virtually flattened.

But last month a considerable quantity of war supplies was reported waiting there for movement to South Vietnam and Cambodia.

Sources said South Vietnamese reconnaissance teams have been operating in the Sepone area for several weeks, apparently collecting information for the assault.

South Vietnamese troops battled for three hours Thursday with a strong North Vietnamese force near Sepone.

Lt. Col. Tran Van An, South Vietnamese chief military spokesman in Saigon, said the North Vietnamese finally withdrew under an onslaught of U.S. bombers.

With American helicopters leapfrogging the South Vietnamese from point to point across the complex of enemy supply trails, the U.S. Command reported six more 'copters shot down and destroyed. Four Americans were reported missing and two wounded.

This raised the announced toll to 48 American helicopters and two fighter-bombers lost since the Laotian drive started Feb. 8, with 41 Americans killed, 28 missing and 46 wounded. Field reports say twice as many helicopters have been shot down, but the rest have been lifted back to Vietnam for repairs.

South Vietnamese headquarters claimed 408 North Vietnamese troops were killed in two other battles Thursday 8 and 16½ miles west of the border outpost of Lao Bao. Twenty South Vietnamese were reported wounded.

The grants, approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, are to be used in defraying the expenses related to higher enrollment and improving the quality of the educational programs.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says the Laotian operation ensures continuation of U.S. troop withdrawals from Indochina, but adds there are no plans for American support of an invasion of North Vietnam.

In a televised news conference Thursday night, Nixon said U.S. force must remain in the South as long as the North holds American prisoners.

And he vigorously defended Secretary of State William P. Rogers—"my oldest and closest friend in the Cabinet"—against a charge by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., that Rogers had lost his role to Henry Kissinger, the President's national-security-affairs adviser.

"I think Sen. Symington's attack upon the secretary frankly was a cheap shot," Nixon said,

Wholesale Prices Show Big Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today the biggest one-month rise in wholesale prices in 17 years.

It added up to the sharpest two-month climb in 20 years, largely because of rising costs of farm products and processed foods.

The February rise of nine-tenths of one per cent was greater than the eight-tenths estimated in an earlier preliminary report and followed January's seven-tenths hike.

Prices of farm products and processed foods shot up 2.6 per cent in February compared with the earlier 2.5 per cent estimate.

The three-tenths of one per cent rise for a broad range of industrial raw materials was the same in both reports.

The February increase brought the government's wholesale price index up to 112.8 per cent of its 1967 base, 2.8 per cent above a year earlier.

Wholesale prices generally indicate future retail trends and living costs, although food prices at both wholesale and retail levels are subject to frequent sharp fluctuations due to weather and market conditions.

"When dealing with these farm prices for one month, anything can happen," said a spokesman for the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

U.S. Jobless Rate Edges Down Some

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate edged down from 6 per cent to 5.8 per cent of the work force last month, the government said today.

Secretary of Labor J. D. Hodgson called it an indication that "the economy is moving in a favorable direction."

The actual number of jobless Americans remained virtually unchanged at 5.4 million, but including allowance for normal seasonal factors the Bureau of Labor Statistics figured it as a drop of 185,000.

Total employment, while edging up slightly to 77.2 million, also represented a decline on a seasonal basis, the report said.

The bureau said total unemployment has dropped 300,000 since a nine-year-high in December, but was still 1.6 million above February a year ago.

The report said February's was the second straight drop in the nation's jobless rate, from 6.2 per cent in December to 6 per cent in January to 5.8 per cent in February.

The bureau had originally reported December's figure as 6 per cent but later revised it upward when January's figure was reported.

"For the first time in many months, a downward movement occurred," Hodgson said of the January figure.

"That change was cited as a hopeful sign because it was accompanied by a similar favorable shift in other indicators—the decline in the level of state unemployment compensation payments, for instance," Hodgson's statement said.

The unemployment insurance figure remained unchanged in February.

Volpe has ordered tighter control over small charter-flight operations, placing them under the same type federal scrutiny faced by commercial airlines. The action follows presentation of a report on the Withita State football charter plane which crashed in Colorado last October.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supersonic-transport chief William M. Magruder says there is no point in releasing a 1969 memorandum against the SST because its author is no "expert either on aviation or the SST."

Major Points Covered by President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here in brief are major points covered by President Nixon in his news conference on foreign affairs Thursday night:

INDOCHINA—No plan to provide air support for a South Vietnamese invasion of the North; South Vietnamese troops can fight without U.S. help; continued U.S. withdrawal is ensured.

MIDEAST—The United States will not attempt to impose a settlement on the Arabs and Israelis.

SOVIET UNION—Any U.S.-Soviet arms-limitation agreement must cover offensive and defensive weapons.

ROGERS-KISSINGER—Secretary of State William P. Rogers and White House foreign-policy adviser Henry A. Kissinger are trusted aides; Rogers is chief foreign-policy spokesman for the President.

State Enjoys Respite From Cold

Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 40; Harrison, 33; Pine Bluff, 34; Texarkana, 40; El Dorado, 39; Memphis, 33; Little Rock, 34 and Fort Smith, 31.

Thieu Waging Own War of Psychology

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — There is growing belief in Saigon that President Nguyen Van Thieu is waging a psychological war against North Vietnam—and that he himself doesn't believe all that he is saying.

Many observers feel that Thieu did not mean it when he threatened in the past few days to invade North Vietnam. They think he hopes with the threats and veiled threats to throw Hanoi into confusion, possibly into some panic and undoubtedly into anger.

More importantly, by talking about invading North Vietnam, Thieu is forcing Hanoi's generals to commit sizable numbers of troops to defending their coastline and the "invasion route" just above the demilitarized zone. These are troops which Hanoi could well use in Laos, Cambodia or South Vietnam.

Hanoi is undoubtedly any Thieu's threats. Broadcast after broadcast by Hanoi Radio berates the "traitor Thieu" and charges that Thieu "is only a puppet obeying the voice of his U.S. masters."

American officials publicly dissociate themselves from Thieu's talk of a "march on the north." But they watch the president's play with private pleasure.

Thieu knows well that he could not send South Vietnamese troops marching into North Vietnam without U.S. support. President Nixon told his news conference Thursday night no plan for such support is under consideration in Washington or has been proposed to him by Thieu.

At the same time, Nixon presumably would like Thieu to keep on talking—but only talking—about invading North Vietnam for the panic effect it might have on Hanoi.

Thieu is also moving against the Communists on another front. Somewhat suddenly, he is now claiming that his government controls 99.8 per cent of the people of South Vietnam. He said Wednesday that all but 36,000 of the 17,910,000 people in the country are under government control.

Thieu does not really believe this himself. No government, however popular, would be able to get that sort of unanimity among the Vietnamese, who can form a political party as soon as they get a dozen people together.

But Thieu's object here is to stake out Saigon's claims ahead of the Viet Cong in case there is a negotiated settlement of the war.

Thieu fears that under such a settlement, or if there is a "standstill cease-fire" as President Nixon proposed last year, the Viet Cong would claim they control more people or territory than is actually theirs.

The court cry of "Oyez" means "hear ye."

adding that he wasn't condemning Symington for his statement in the Senate Tuesday.

"As to whether either Secretary Rogers or Dr. Kissinger is the top adviser, as to who is on first," Nixon said, "the answer to that of course is very simply that the secretary of state is always the chief foreign-policy adviser and the chief foreign-policy spokesman of the administration."

The Indochina war dominated the half-hour news session devoted to foreign affairs. The President went to some length in pronouncing the Laos operation a success.

U.S. troop withdrawals have been averaging roughly 12,000 a month since Nixon began reducing the 543,500-man U.S. force in mid-1969. By May 1 the U.S. force remaining in South Vietnam is slated to be down to 284,000, and the President plans to announce further withdrawals next month.

"Our troop-withdrawal schedule will go forward at least at the present rate," Nixon said.

He said the U.S. commander in Vietnam, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, "tells me that in both Laos and in Cambodia his evaluation after three weeks of fighting is that—to use his terms—the South Vietnamese by themselves can hack it...."

"This means that our withdrawal program, our Vietnamization program is a success, and can continue on schedule, and we trust even ahead of schedule assuming there is more progress in Laos."

Nixon said Abrams reported the South Vietnamese units in Laos already have cut North Vietnamese southbound truck traffic by 55 per cent, "which means that those trucks that do not go South will not carry the arms and the men that will be killing Americans."

While some television commentators have kept up a drumbeat of criticism, Nixon said without naming anyone, the aim of the Cambodian and Laotian operations has been to reduce U.S. forces and casualties and "that is exactly what this administration has done."

"We are going to continue to reduce our forces, and we are getting out of Vietnam in a way that Vietnam will be able to defend itself," he said.

Nixon portrayed talk by South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu of possibly invading North Vietnam as natural for the leader of a country under invasion. But he drew limits on what the United States might do.

"We will have no ground forces in North Vietnam, in Cambodia or in Laos" outside of rescuers for fliers or prisoners, Nixon said. He said U.S. airpower will be used against the North, against threatening missile sites and against military targets where increased infiltration endangers remaining U.S. forces.

Jail Ruling Problem to Officers

By TOMMY YATES
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — On the surface, it appears the U.S. Supreme Court opened a can of worms earlier this week when the high court ruled out jailing people simply because they are too poor to pay their fines.

The worms may not stop crawling until there has been some revision of the laws.

The ruling is expected to have "quite an effect" on the three county penal farms in the state — Pulaski, Mississippi and Phillips counties—because most of those sent to the farms are those who cannot pay their fines on misdemeanor convictions.

"It would be humanly impossible of a court to know how far-reaching the opinion of the U.S. Supreme Court would be until you have the opinion and opportunity to study it," said Municipal Judge Jack Holt Jr. of Little Rock.

"I don't know if they've left any loopholes or not," Holt said. "If you can't fine somebody who is guilty for violating the law and they happen not to be able to pay the fine and you can't send them to the farm, then any poor man would have the right to go out and commit any crime he wanted to and say 'you can't send me to jail because I'm a poor man.'"

When the crime carries a punishment of a fine and jail sentence, Holt said the court probably would be forced to forego the fine and levy only the jail sentence. "Now, will he come back and say you can't send a poor man to jail?" Holt asked.

"If it comes down to the lower courts and if we can't fine a man and if he is unable to pay it and you can't send him to jail, then there are going to be a large number of criminals turned loose on the public to commit the same act as often as they please," Holt said.

Many of those sent to county farms are alcoholics. Holt said he personally did not think putting a known and chronic alcoholic in jail was the answer. He said, though, "you can't tell them to stay home if they are going to drink because they don't have a home."

"Now if you can't fine them for drunkenness, knowing at the time they can't pay the fine, then you can't send them to the county farm, so then what are you going to do with the chronic alcoholic," Holt said.

Holt said if the Supreme Court ruling is like it sounds, "there is going to have to be some remodeling of our laws."

Pulaski County Judge B. Frank Mackey said the ruling "might possibly mean the penal farm could be abolished as it now is known," because he said the majority of the inmates are there because they cannot pay their fines.

There has been a suggested alternative that persons would not be jailed and would be allowed to pay their fines on an installment basis.

"We have done that two or three times in the last two years," Mackey said. "In each instance the man has not paid his complete fine."

However, Mackey said this would be tried again "if we feel it is necessary for a man to be out to support his family because we don't want the family to suffer."

Municipal Judge Graham Sudbury of Blytheville feels that this might turn the courts into collection agencies. However, Sudbury said he could offer no other comment until he had read the complete Supreme Court opinion.

Mississippi County Judge A. A. Banks said he felt that if there was a provision in the law where days could be given in lieu of the monetary penalty, then "perhaps this will be imposed more than it is now."

"It seems to me it becomes a question on who is able to pay and who isn't," Banks said. "There would have to be some certification on this... and there would have to be something to substantiate the claim of the person who says he cannot pay his fine."

Banks said there was no way to know how the ruling would affect the farming operation at the penal farm.

the 1874 Constitution and to expand the salaries and terms of constitutional officers.

Smith's vote gave the discount rate bill exactly the number of favorable votes necessary for passage. The vote was 51-28.

Before his vote, however, opponents of the proposal had successfully challenged one favorable vote through a parliamentary device known as "sounding the ballot," reducing the total to 50-28, not enough for passage. The vote of Rep. Jim Roberts of Trumann had been thrown out because he was not in the chamber at the time the House was polled under the ballot sounding.

Opponents of the bill, similarly, had defeated the bill Wednesday by a sounding of the ballot, but the measure remained alive when Rep. John Miller of Melbourne gave notice of reconsideration.

The proposal, along with the bill to increase the cigarette tax by five cents per package, are the only bills in Bumpers' tax package that remain for final legislative consideration.

The discount rate bill would yield an estimated $1.1 million a year.

The proposed constitutional amendment rewriting the legislative article requires House concurrence in one minor amendment before legislative action is complete. The change, suggested by Sen. Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff, would require a three-fifths favorable vote for passage of appropriation bills rather than the three-fourths vote required presently.

The proposed amendment, which would be one of three submitted by the legislature to the electorate in the 1972 general election, would permit the legislature to establish the salaries of its members on the condition that two successive regular sessions of the General Assembly approve the salary figure.

The proposal also would provide for single-member legislative districts and annual sessions of the General Assembly.

The proposed amendment to expand salaries and terms of constitutional officers was offered by Sen. Joe T. Ford of Little Rock. House approval is required to complete legislative action on the proposal.

Ford's proposal would establish four-year terms for constitutional officers and would prohibit the governor from succeeding himself in office.

Salaries under the proposed amendment would be established at $25,000 for governor, $15,000 for attorney general, $12,500 for secretary of state, treasurer, auditor and land commissioner and $7,500 for lieutenant governor.

County officers' salaries would be set by law, but the proposed amendment would set a limit of $10,000 a year.

Divorce Hearing Suspended

BRESCIA, Italy (AP) — Hearing of a divorce action by opera star Maria Callas against industrialist Battista Meneghini has been suspended for two weeks after he challenged constitutionality of Italy's new divorce law.

Miss Callas and Meneghini were married in 1949 and were granted a civil separation in 1959. At that time Italian law did not permit divorce.

She filed her divorce action in January.

Lyndon B. Johnson was first elected to the U.S. Senate in 1948, winning by only 87 votes.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A judge says newspaper stories and broadcasts about the health of Howard Hughes, the reclusive billionaire, are not "substantial evidence" that he is in poor shape.

Dist. Court Judge Howard Babcock accordingly turned down Wednesday a petition by Robert Maheu, former head of Hughes operations in Nevada, that his ex-employer be ordered to make an immediate deposition on his firing.

Maheu, ousted in December, is suing Hughes and the Hughes Tool Co. for $50 million. Hughes is reported to be living now in the Bahamas.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon's news conference Thursday night hit the Eastern Time Zone in mid-evening but the disruption of television programming was handled smoothly by the three networks.

NBC had the knottiest problem—the news conference was scheduled for the time period normally occupied by the second half of "Ironside"—but it reversed the hour-long whodunit with "Adam 12," a half-hour show, then ran the rest of its prime time programming a half hour late.

CBS's "Jim Nabors Show" preceded the President's session, and the network started its two-hour film feature 30 minutes late. ABC preempted "Make Room for Granddaddy," and started "Dan August" approximately on time.

Two popular series with Girl Fridays in the cast are hunting replacements. Barbara Anderson, after all those seasons in "Ironside" playing officer Eve Whitfield which won her an Emmy, leaves for broader acting assignments. Leslie Warren, after one season with "Mission: Impossible," also departs, along with Leonard Nimoy.

"Mission: Impossible," stronger than ever in its current Saturday night spot, survived nicely two seasons ago when Barbara Bain and Martin Landau, playing approximately the same two parts, quit in a contract dispute.

"Ironside," which rarely has an off night, was out of stride this week. It waory about an Armenian patriarch blackmailed into permitting narcotics traffic in his shop. It was short on suspense and long on phony foreign accents.

Earlier on CBS "The Jim Nabors Show" had a circus theme. This is usually serviceable for a variety program and permitted Jim to dress in a clown costume and sing "Vesti la Giubba," but it didn't do much for the comedy. However, some viewers may find Frank Sutton funny as a robot.

The series, a middling success for the past couple of seasons, is reported to be among those disappearing next season in CBS's big overhaul of schedule.

CBS' News Department is planning a big project, a series called "The American Revolution" to be shown from time to time over the next six years. The gimmick will be "conversations" between Eric Sevareid and actors playing figures related to the birth of the nation. The first, on April 6, will star Peter Ustinov as King George III's prime minister.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

A PRIEST'S "CONFESSION"

Dear Helen:

Parents are past masters at saying the wrong thing, then trying to bluster it out, as if they weren't in the wrong. Why is it so hard for adults to apologize to their children?

Take me, for example. I'm sitting here thinking what a stupid fool I made of myself. I lost my temper and got the worst of it from my husband, so I took it out on our son, calling his friends (among other things) a "bunch of long-haired freaks." They aren't really, but on that particular day, our son hadn't done his homework, his room was in a worse than usual mess—and I needed a whipping boy. It happens more often than I'd like to admit.

Now there's a sort of gulf between us, made worse by me because I've kept on "picking," in an attempt to justify myself, probably. Do others have this problem too?—FEELING GUILTY

Dear F.G.:

Apologies come hard to most of us, and especially when they involve our children. You probably have a submerged feeling that to admit you're wrong weakens authority. It also hurts your pride: The "perfect parent" doesn't make mistakes—so you "justify yourself" by finding faults that prove your point.

If you can't SAY "I'm sorry . . ." how about writing it? A letter to your son (at this particular moment) might bridge a small gulf that COULD, if "picked at" enough, widen into a chasm.—H.

P.S. You might enclose with your letter this "confession" written by a very human Catholic priest, and published recently in the Sacramento BEE.

Dear Lord:

I can make an ass of myself in a thousand ways.

But I really excel with my mouth.

The other morning, I got out of my car and was approached by a couple of girls whose casual dress

Immediately catalogued them, in the way we snobbish humans do, as hippies.

They asked me if I had 20 cents and I replied that, yes, I had 20 cents.

But I wasn't giving it to them! Immediately I was ashamed, Ashamed for the rudeness, the rottenness.

Of that wisecracking answer. And I thought: What a jerk! Who appointed you the almighty judge?

And jury, the lord high executioner?

There are ways of saying "No" Without sounding like a Pharasee or

The self-appointed defender of public morals.

What kind of a man are you, anyway?

If a simple thing like that Stampedes you into being rude?

I blundered in that because I was afraid.

Because somebody was threatening my

Tight little innermost feeling of security.

And I recognized in those poor kids

A kick in the seat of my conscience.

And I didn't like it.

So I justified the answer as we

LOSE 20 POUNDS IN TWO WEEKS!

Famous U.S. Women Ski Team Diet

During the non-snow off season the U.S. Women's Alpine Ski Team members go on the "Ski Team" diet to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. That's right — 20 pounds in 14 days! The basis of the diet is chemical food action and was devised by a famous Colorado physician especially for the U.S. Ski Team. Normal energy is maintained (very important!) while reducing. You keep "full" — no starvation — because the diet is designed that way! It's a diet that is easy to follow whether you work, travel or stay at home.

This is, honestly, a fantastically successful diet. If it weren't, the U.S. Women's Ski Team wouldn't be permitted to use it! Right? So, give yourself the same break the U.S. Ski Team gets. Lose weight the scientific, proven way. Even if you've tried all the other diets, you owe it to yourself to try the U.S. Women's Ski Team Diet. That is, if you really do want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. Order today. Tear this out as a reminder.

Send only $1.00 ($1.25 for Rush Service) — cash is O.K. — to: Ski Team Diet, 279 Sheffield Dr., Dept. ST, Santa Barbara, Calif. 93103. Don't order unless you expect to lose 20 pounds in two weeks! Because that's what the Ski Team Diet will do!

Stamps Goes Into State A Semifinals

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Green Forest, led by Steve Winkle, eliminated defending champion Ouachita 71-46 Thursday night in the quarterfinals of the Class A senior boys state basketball tournament at Little Rock's Barton Coliseum.

Green Forest will meet Stamps at 8:30 tonight in one semifinal game and Stephens plays Salem at 1:30 in the other semifinal. Stamps whipped Lavaca 56-44 and Stephens downed White Hall 53-43 in quarterfinal action Thursday.

Winkle scored 16 of his 28 points in the first half as Green Forest shot to a 40-21 halftime lead. Danny Farmer aided the winners with 13 points. The victory boosted Green Forest's record to 32-3.

Randy Hathcock scored 17 points and Danny McMahan 12 for Ouachita.

Stamps upped its record to 27-1, pulling away from Lavaca in the second half. Stamps held a 28-25 halftime advantage. Ted Gilkey paced Stamps with 21 points and Danny Speer added 16. Johnny Helms led Lavaca with 12 points.

Stephens trailed White Hall 14-9 in the early going but took the lead for good with one minute left in the first half and slowly pulled away.

Larry Banks led Stephens with 27 points. David Edwards scored 11 for White Hall.

Arkansas Golfers Are Behind

MIAMI (AP) — Three professional golfers from Arkansas were unable to match par 72 Thursday in the first round of the $150,000 Doral-Eastern Open golf tournament.

Richard Crawford of Little Rock led the way with a 75 on nines of 37-38. R. H. Sikes of Springdale and Miller Barber of Texarkana were at 76, Sikes with 40-36 and Barber with 36-40.

Gardner Dickinson was the first round leader at 68.

Emerson Is Eliminated in Tourney

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Desha Central solved Emerson's full-court press midway through the second period and advanced to the semifinals of the Class B senior boys state basketball tournament with an 80-60 victory Thursday night.

Desha Central meets County Line at 7 p.m. tonight in a semifinal and Gould takes on Taylor at 3 p.m. in the other semifinal. Gould pulled away from Dover in the final minute for a 67-58 victory and County Line whipped Magnet Cove 70-54 in other quarterfinal action Thursday.

Emerson confused Desha Central with its press for a while and held a 29-24 lead midway through the second period. At that point, Desha Central began breaking the press and raced to a 41-33 halftime lead. Major Jones, a 6-8 junior, led Desha Central with 29 points and LaWayne Baker added 16. Emerson's Tom Rhynes led all scorers with 30 points.

Gould and Dover were tied 56-56 with less than a minute to play, but two free throws by Leslie Bailey and two more by William Hill put the Panthers safely ahead.

Stanley Rucker paced Gould with 23 points and Hill contributed 20. James Mackey led Dover with 23 points.

County Line, using a full-court press and a half-court press, forced Magnet Cove into several errors and led 33-24 at the end of the first half. Magnet Cove could not catch up in the second half.

John Vest led the winners with 20 points and Mike Sewell added 15. Randy Crumby and David Helms scored 15 each for Magnet Cove.

Dickinson in Lead in Doral Open

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
MIAMI (AP) — Arnold Palmer is disgusted, Jack Nicklaus is still playing last week's tournament and Gardner Dickinson holds the lead today going into the second round of the $150,000 Doral-Eastern Open golf tournament.

"I got so disgusted with my putting I let it effect the rest of my game," Palmer said after taking a three-over-par 75 in Thursday's first round, putting him well back in the pack.

"I played pretty well," said Nicklaus, winner of last week's PGA national championship. "But I had a couple mental lapses. I guess I was still playing the PGA."

He had a 74.
And Dickinson, a hardened veteran of almost 20 years on the pro tour who is attempting to battle his way out of a year-long slump, fought wind and cold for a four-under-par 68 and a one-stroke lead.

"It's one of my worst driving rounds ever," said the leather-faced little 130-pounder. "I just hope I keep putting like this. I know I can start hitting the ball again."

Dickinson, the 1968 winner of this event, held a one-stroke lead over five players tied at 69. They included Ted Hayes, Canadian George Knudson, Gilbert, Homero Blancas and Bobby Nichols, a former PGA champion now a club pro at Akron, Ohio.

Young Brien Allin and J.C. Sneed, winner of the Tucson Open two weeks ago, had 70s.

South African Gary Player was still in contention with a 72, but U.S. Open champ Tony Jacklin of England shot himself out of it with a 77 and may have trouble making the cut today. Defending champion Mike Hill had a 74.

Masters champion Billy Casper and 1970 leading money winner Lee Trevino are not competing.

Dickinson, a one-time protege of Ben Hogan and generally considered one of the better teachers in the game, had a poor season last year. He didn't finish higher than eighth and won only $28,000, well below his usual pace. He lost his spot as an exempt player. He made money in only 13 of 22 starts and wasn't eligible for the PGA.

"I'm going to play more this year," he said. "I want to get into next year's PGA."

He said he wasn't overly concerned about his erratic driving, usually one of the strongest parts of his game.

"I'm using a lighter shaft on my driver, and it's pretty whippy in the wind. I've used it for several weeks, but this is the first time I've used it in the wind. It'll come around."

Palmer, accompanied by a gallery of only 22 when he started in the biting cold, dumped a nine iron shot in the lake on the 18th, missed a six-foot putt and took a double bogey six.

"I think I'll take two weeks off and then quit altogether," he joked.

2 Cage Games at Spring Hill Saturday

There will be a couple of basketball games at Spring Hill school gymnasium Saturday, March 6 starting at 7 p.m.

The Spring Hill Women Boosters Club will play the Emmet women and in a second contest the Spring Hill Men Boosters will play a team from the Standard Generator Co.

second game of the twinbill and the only other ABA action Thursday, some 4,700 partisan throats were weary from cheering Barry's bombers. The waning cheers took their toll as the Floridians bowed to Kentucky 128-119.

Meanwhile, Milwaukee downed Buffalo 116-113 in the only NBA game scheduled.

Dan Issel was Kentucky's shotgun and peppered the scoreboard with 31 points.

A three-pointer by Issel with 2:21 left put the Colonels ahead 118-117. An Issel layup moments later sparked a 10-0 barrage that capped the Kentucky victory.

Carr Closes Dramatic Season

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The cheers started when the game ended and kept up for more than 15 minutes. It was a dramatic finish to Austin Carr's regular season college basketball career at Notre Dame Thursday night.

Carr, one of the country's top collegiate players, threw 31 points to pace the 16th-ranked Irish over Western Michigan 110-79.

This gave him a career total of 2,435, a Notre Dame record, and the capacity hometown crowd of 11,345 in South Bend, Ind. gave him a tremendous standing ovation.

Carr and Notre Dame will play in the NCAA championship tourney starting March 13, but his varsity playing days on the Irish home court are over.

Charlie Yelverton scored 38 points to lead 10th-ranked Fordham over Georgetown, D.C. 81-68 while St. Louis knocked out Louisville out of first place in the torrid Missouri Valley Conference race, 73-60. Drake now leads the MVC at 9-5 with St. Louis, Louisville and Memphis State tied for second at 8-5. A playoff for the MVC berth in the NCAA tourney seems certain.

A short jumper at the buzzer by Jim Hewitt gave Richmond a 69-67 victory over East Carolina in the Southern Conference tourney at Charlotte. In other first games William and Mary shaded Virginia Military 69-65 and Furman beat The Citadel 95-82.

In the semifinals tonight Davidson plays Furman and Richmond meets Wm.-Mary. Davidson drew a first round bye. Louisiana State downed Vanderbilt 87-85, Georgia trimmed Alabama 84-76, Tulsa overcame North Texas 84-76, Eastern Kentucky edged Morehead 76-74. Marshall whipped George Washington 106-85 and San Francisco U. turned back St. Mary's, Calif., 90-85.

Seton Hall nipped Virginia 73-71 and Manhattan tripped Iona 63-54 in a Madison Square Garden twin bill. Massachusetts celebrated its acceptance of an NIT tourney bid by defeating Maine 84-71.

Providence, as well as Massachusetts, was added to the NIT field, leaving 11 spots to be filled before the tourney opens March 20.

Frosh Cagers Set a Goal at the Start

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Prior to the 1970-71 basketball season, the University of Arkansas freshmen set a 12-0 record as a goal.

Midway through the season, a rules change permitted the addition of four more games and the players retained their sights on 16-0.

The Shoats reached those lofty heights Tuesday night with a 114-106 victory over Beebe Junior College and in the process cracked almost every UA freshman record. The ringleader was 6-8 Dean Tolson of Kansas City, Mo., who set records of 30.4 points a game and 20.4 rebounds a game.

Tolson decided on Arkansas after head coach Lanny Van Eman convinced him he could do college work. He had originally decided to attend LSU-New Orleans where he would not have to take the college board examination to get into school.

Tolson took five courses during the summer and compiled a high "C" average.

Van Eman was asked recently to compare Tolson to James Robinson, the University of Texas' 6-6 freshman star.

"Dean is perhaps not the outside shooter that Robinson is," Van Eman said, "but Tolson can rebound better, handle the ball better, and shoot in close better than anyone we have on our varsity. He's truly an outstanding talent."

Tolson, who is far from overpowering at 185 pounds, says what he likes to do best "is take my man outside and then take him to the goal."

Many observers expect Tolson, 6-7 Dennis White and 6-8 Roger Spears to make the varsity an immediate winner next year. Tolson accepts the challenge.

"If we can get a big junior college transfer I think we'll be able to play with anybody," he said. "We had a real fine varsity team this year. Give them 30 points to put where they wanted and they would have won the Southwest Conference."

"All they needed was a big man to give them a little intimidation under the goal," he said. "They needed to create a little problem for the little man driving into the goal."

Tolson does not see himself filling the role of the "big man."

"I'm pretty lightweight," he said. "I don't think I could handle the post job. I'd rather play on the wing."

Manager of Braves Has His Problems

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Manager Luman Harris of the Atlanta Braves has some major problems as the exhibition season opens but one of them he can't even control. A doctor won't let him have Rico Carty, the National League's top hitter with a .366 average last year.

Neither the doctor, Harry Rogers, nor the vice president, Paul Richards, is being particularly capricious—Carty's fractured knee still requires the big outfielder to use crutches.

So Carty's return is completely up in the air, leaving Harris with the major task of locating a replacement while the big problem of restoring his pitching staff is another major headache.

Harris has Hank Aaron and Orlando Cepeda, two-thirds of the heart of his batting order in camp. Cepeda, who hit .305 and hammered 34 homers and drove in 111 runs last season, came to terms recently joining Aaron, a .298 hitter with 38 home runs and 118 RBIs last year.

While Aaron, Carty and Cepeda tore apart National League pitching last year, the Braves' pitching staff fell apart and the defending West champions' title fell with them to a fifth-place finish. Now the pitchers are back—and Carty's gone.

But, Harris speculates, the fall may have been as much due to complacency as injuries that cost the Braves the services of No. 1 reliever Cecil Upshaw for the entire season and left Ron Reed ineffective after his return.

"We played bad last year," Harris said frankly. "Maybe we were too contented after winning the previous year and maybe it was that the darn Cincinnati club jumped out to such a bad lead. I'm not sure. But I am sure that they're working a lot harder this spring than last."

Whether that's the reason for the flop remains a question. Maybe the pitching just isn't as strong as Harris contends in listing Phil Niekro, Reed, Pat Jarvis, George Stone, Jim Nash and sophomore Mike McQueen as his potential starters.

Niekro nosedived from 23-13 in 1969 to 12-18. Reed was 7-10 after breaking his collarbone. Jarvis was 16-16. Stone was 11-11. Nash was 13-9. McQueen, just 20, was 1-5 after being summoned from the Richmond farm. And Upshaw didn't even pitch after severing a finger.

Nevertheless, Harris, finding Upshaw and Reed "perfectly sound," insists "this is the best pitching staff since I got here." That covers three previous years.

Assuming the spots in the rotation are filled, that still leaves three holes to fill—two in the outfield, where Aaron will be the lone holdover, and at shortstop, where Sonny Jackson and Gil Garrido have been found wanting.

The Braves feel they have the shortstop in Marty Perez, acquired from California in the trade for outfielder Tony Gonzalez, and the outfield candidates in Ralph Garr, International League batting king with a .386 average at Richmond; Oscar Brown, .351 at Shreveport; Dusty Baker, .325 at Richmond, or holdover Mike Lum, a .254 hitter.

Perez would fit into an infield that is otherwise sound with Cepeda at first, outstanding Felix Millan at second and veteran Cleto Boyer at third.

Can the Braves make it back to the top?

"It's a tough division," said Harris. "There's five teams capable of winning it—and I think we're one of the five."

The other four he's thinking of are Cincinnati, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Houston. With so many things required to fall into place, it's likely that the Braves will have difficulty rising higher than third.

Awsome Line of Bruins Shut Out

By LARRY ELDRIDGE
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins' awesome line of Phil Esposito, Ken Hodge and Wayne Cashman was shut out Thursday night. So what happened? John Bucyk, Derek Sanderson and the ever-present Bobby Orr took over in a 7-0 rout of the California Seals.

"Things just weren't going for us tonight," Hodge said. "We had about 20 shots on goal and nothing went in. But fortunately the other guys were on, and that's all that counts."

Bucyk scored three goals to hike his season total to 44. Sanderson added a pair, and Orr and John McKenzie picked up one each. Orr, in addition to his goal, made his presence felt one way or another all night in a dazzling performance, assisting on three goals, leading numerous rushes, and doing his usual standout job in the penalty-killing department.

The Bruins, streaking toward the East Division title, had a few special incentives in this game including the fact that the lowly Seals are the last team to have beaten them on their home ice, via a 2-1 upset on Nov. 15.

This was Boston's 24th straight game since then at the Garden without a loss, just four shy of the league record set by Montreal back in 1942-43. And the triumph was the team's 46th of the season, tying another mark set by Montreal just two years ago.

In the third period, with the issue no longer in doubt, coach Tom Johnson used his fourth line of Mike Walton, Reggie Leach and Don Marcotte for several turns. With this development plus trying to give Bucyk and Sanderson chances at hat tricks, he wound up keeping the Esposito line out of action for practically the entire period.

In the only other NHL game played, Philadelphia tied Detroit 2-2. Vancouver's game at Montreal was postponed because of a crippling snowstorm. Philadelphia earned its deadlock with Detroit on defenseman Barry Ashbee's third period goal. The Wings had gone ahead in the middle period on power play goals by Alex Delvecchio and Mickey Redmond after Andre Lacroix's first-period goal had given the Flyers the early edge.

Gals to Take Over Racing Spotlight

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The gals take over the horse racing spotlight this weekend. A probable field of 11 fillies and mares, headed by Manta at 128 pounds, is expected for the $100,000 Santa Margarita Invitational Handicap at Santa Anita on Saturday.

Also on the weekend card are the $50,000 Donn Handicap at Gulfstream Park, the $27,500 Prince George's Stakes at Bowie, the $25,000 Southland Handicap at Oaklawn Park, the $20,000 Valjeo Stakes at Golden Gate Fields and the $15,000 LeComte Handicap at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans.

Laffit Pincay Jr. will be in the saddle astride Manta for the 1½ miles of the Margarita. Cathy Honey, Last of The Line, Taken aback, Beja, Golden Or and Opening Bid are among the anticipated starters.

Sunny Tim, third in the Widener several weeks ago, is the early choice for the Donn under 116 pounds. Twogunda, who won the Donn last year, also is likely to start the 1½ mile along with The Pruner, Corn Off the Cob, Judgable, Snow Sporting and Chompin.

Boone The Great heads the probabilities for the Prince George's while Dust Commander, the 1970 Kentucky Derby winner, and Charlie Jr. top the likely starters in the Southland.

Milwaukee Goes After 19th in Row

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Bucks go after their record 19th consecutive victory tonight. Then they want to have some fun before the National Basketball Association playoffs begin.

Greg Smith came off the bench Thursday night to help the Bucks squeeze past the Buffalo Braves 116-113 and tie the NBA record of 18 straight wins set last season by the New York Knicks.

Tonight, the Midwest Division leaders invade Detroit in a bid for their 19th in a row.

The Milwaukee-Buffalo game was the only NBA contest Thursday night. In the American Basketball Association, Kentucky downed the Floridians 128-119, and New York edged Pittsburgh 114-110 in a doubleheader at Miami.

Smith played the entire first period, then sat on the bench with a bad knee until three minutes were left in the game and a furious Buffalo rally had cut Milwaukee's lead to three points, 107-104.

Smith hit a free throw with 26 seconds left, then dropped in two more with 14 second remaining in the game to ice the victory.

"Tomorrow we'll go out and try to beat the record," the Bucks coach, Larry Costello, said, "then the hell with it. We'll rest, relax and have a little fun and try to get ready for the playoffs."

Lew Alcindor suffered through his second straight subpar, for him, game, scoring 25 points and grabbing 17 rebounds, breaking his own club season records for most field goals and rebounds. Bob Kauffman led Buffalo with 26 points.

Villanova Team to Beat in Meet

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Villanova, with senior Marty Liquori playing a major role, appears the team to beat as the Wildcats gun for their fifth consecutive ICAA Indoor Track and Field championship tonight and Saturday at Princeton's Jadwin Hall.

The Olympian will aim for his third straight mile triumph and will anchor either the two-mile or distance medley relay team in this meet, shifted to a collegecampus after 49 years in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Despite the addition of four new events this year, and Villanova coach "Jumbo" Jim Elliott's claims of less balance now than in past years, coaches from the 66 schools representing nearly 1,000 competitors still give Villanova the edge.

Hanging Out Off Season Pro Grid Wash

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the off-season pro football wash:
The Pro Football Hall of Fame at Canton, Ohio, had 122,738 visitors, a record, during 1970. The Hall expects to open a new $600,000 wing this spring.

Broadway Joe Namath had the best single-game yardage of any quarterback in the National Football League last year. The shaggy haired hero accomplished this feat although he appeared in only five games and won only once.

Namath passed for 397 yards against the Baltimore Colts. It was in that game that Namath broke his wrist.

Five other American Football Conference quarterbacks passed for over 300 yards in a single showing, with rookie Dennis Shaw of Buffalo tossing a pair of 300-plus yard games—348 against Miami and 317 against the Jets.

Placekickers in the NFC had a field goal success percentage of .611 in 1970, a record for a professional league or conference, according to the NFL's official statisticians, the Elias Sports Bureau.
The Redskins' Curt Knight led the NFC with a percentage of .741, hitting on 20 of 27 including 11-of-11 inside the 29-yard line.

AFC placekickers averaged .575 on their three-point attempts. Garo Yepremian of the Dolphins was the best in the AFL—and also the NFL—with .759 mark.

The six new head coaches in the NFL are Ed Hughes of Houston, Sid Gillman of San Diego, Dan Devine of Green Bay, Tommy Prothro of Los Angeles, George Allen of Washington and Bob Hollway of St. Louis.

Old Family Wins Feature at Oaklawn

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Old Family, ridden by Robert Kotenko, opened up a three-length lead going down the backstretch and then held off fast-closing Plaza Beau for a one length victory in Thursday's $5,000 feature race at Oaklawn Park.

Seven 3-year-old fillies are scheduled to meet in today's feature race, a six-furlong event with a $7,000 purse. The field includes Light Sleeper (119), Prissy K (111), Mama Mel (107), Amber Melody (118), Roman Hostess (112), Bold Tex Miss (116) and Somegoer (112).

Old Family, owned by Sara Mahan, ran the one mile and 70 yards of good track in 1:45.4-5. Overlooked in the wagering, Old Family returned $31.40, $10.80 and $5.80. Plaza Beau returned $5.00 and $3.20 and Phantom Leader paid $5.00 to show.

Old Family reached the lead after the first quarter mile and had easy sailing until Plaza Beau began moving in the stretch. Plaza Beau, ridden by Don Brumfield, shot pas Kasun and Phantom Leader at the top of the stretch but could not catch Old Family.

Phantom Leader lost ground in the stretch but finished four lengths in front of Kasun, the tiring favorite.

Jockey Steve Richie rode three winners for trainer Bob Holthaus Thursday, including Devil Made Me Doit in the first, Suzy Sledge in the third and Boss A Bout in the eighth.

Many Geniuses
The greatest concentration of genius was found in Athens from the 5th to the 2nd century B.C., when a population of less than 25,000 produced such men as Pericles, Plato, Aristotle, Themistocles and others of equal or near-equal rank.

Quarterfinals in Auckland Tennis Meet

AUCKLAND New Zealand (AP) — Mrs. Margaret Court of Australia disposed of Patti Hogan of LaJolla, Calif., 6-3, 6-2 in the semifinals of the Auckland Centennial Open Tennis Championships today.

Evonne Goolagong of Australia downed Sharon Walsh of San Rafael, Calif., 6-3, 4-6, 6-0 in quarter-final match.

In the women's doubles, Mrs. Court and Miss Goolagong defeated Robyn Legge and Marilyn Pryde of New Zealand 6-3, 6-2, and Winnie Shaw, Britain, and Lesley Bowrey, Australia, defeated Miss Hogan and Miss Walsh 7-5, 6-3.

In the men's doubles quarterfinals, Bob Carmichael and Ray Ruffels of Australia defeated Roy Barth, San Diego, and Torben Ulrich, Denmark, 6-7, 6-4, 6-2, 7-5.

In the mixed doubles semifinals, Colin Dibley of Australia and Mrs. Court defeated Dick Crealy, Australia, and Miss Shaw, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1.

OTTAWA (AP) — Warren Atrial, 46, former head trainer of the National Football League's New Orleans Saints Thursday was named trainer of the Ottawa Rough Riders of the Canadian Football League.

Money Crisis Suspends Nuclear Tests

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reflecting a lack of money and the outcries of environmentalists, the United States is suspending nuclear tests aimed at finding peaceful uses for atomic energy.

The fiscal year beginning July 1 will be the first in which there will be no nuclear device exploded under the Plowshare program since it began in 1958.

"There just isn't any money for any kind of test in fiscal 1972," said an Atomic Energy Commission spokesman. "We don't know at this point whether the AEC will ask for money for Plowshare detonations in fiscal 1973 ..."

The decision to suspend underground explosions comes at a time, say AEC officials, when the Soviet Union's atoms-for-peace program is "not only getting ahead of us but is already ahead of us."

The suspension comes on the heels of U.S. testing of the cleanest nuclear device—in terms of radioactivity—in the 100,000-ton range.

The last explosion before the testing halt is yet to come, AEC sources say. It will be called "Miniata" and will involve an entirely new class of Plowshare explosives designed specifically for stimulating natural-gas production.

Project Plowshare was launched during President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration. The federal government since mid-1958 has spent $145 million on Plowshare, including the cost of 24 underground blasts.

AEC officials said in interviews the Plowshare cutback was prompted by federal budget tightening, limited financial support from private industry and opposition of environmentalists to any type of nuclear blast.

The AEC says the test suspension should not be interpreted as the first step in elimination of Plowshare.

In fact, officials say, Plowshare is undergoing a transition: from current tests of nuclear explosions for such huge excavation projects as a new Panama Canal to engineering blasts aimed at finding new sources of energy.

The AEC's two major Plowshare tests were dubbed "Gasbuggy" near Farmington, N.M., in December 1967, and "Rulison," detonated Sept. 10, 1969, near Rifle, Colo.

Education Helps in Merchant Marine

By ERNIE HOOD

Robert J. Dayton, Wash., says: "I was in the Navy for four years, and since then, I've been interested in the merchant marine. How can I join?"

Dear Robert: No educational requirements are established for either licensed or unlicensed merchant marines but, as in most jobs today, a good education is an advantage.

The U.S. Merchant Marine Academy, five state academies and programs operated by merchant marine trade unions offer training for a licensed rating.

Unlicensed seamen also may, to a limited degree, obtain training for entry jobs through these trade unions but usually attend union-sponsored classes to upgrade their ratings once employed.

To become a ship officer requires obtaining a license, granted after successful completion of a U. S. Coast Guard exam. Unlicensed crewmen going to sea for the first time must obtain a merchant mariner's document from the Coast Guard after presenting proof they have job offers from U. S. Merchant Marine employers.

Advancement for both licensed and unlicensed personnel depends not only on specified sea experience, leadership ability and an opening, but also upon successful completion of Coast Guard exams.

Sandra K., Phoenix, Ariz., asks: "I want to major in history, but can you suggest any careers for me other than teaching?"

Dear Sandra: I certainly can. Although 85 per cent of the estimated 14,000 historians employed in 1968 held college teaching positions, others could be found in federal government agencies such as the National Archives, and the departments of Defense, Interior and

U.S. Cutting Back Air Defenses

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is sharply cutting back its air defenses against bomber attack in a move reflecting a Soviet threat that never reached its expectations.

An Army announcement Wednesday that it will deactivate half its remaining Nike-Hercules missile batteries was followed by Air Force disclosures of plans to cut back and spread even thinner its fighter-interceptor squadrons.

The move represents both an economy measure and a continuing shift in air defense concepts that began in the early sixties as the Russians concentrated on intercontinental ballistic missiles.

In the 1950s when the Soviets were building long-range bombers, the United States set up an elaborate shield of Nike missiles around its major cities. Backing

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB Reassuring Advice For Troubled Girl

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am so embarrassed to write about this but it really worries me. I am 13 and I have been having a whitish, clearish discharge from my vagina. It doesn't cause any pain or itching but I don't know what causes it or where I got it. Could I have gotten it in gym class? What can I do about it?

Dear Reader—Do not be embarrassed. Women normally have some discharge from the vagina. In mature women the normal discharge is minimal and serves to keep the delicate lining of the vagina lubricated. The amount of discharge tends to increase about halfway between periods or at the time the female egg is released and again a day or two before periods. It is also increased during pregnancy.

The discharge may be rather heavy in young girls, about your age. The marked discharge occurs a few years before and after the onset of periods.

The discharge is creamy white or clear and causes no odor or itching. It is not a venereal disease or an infection. If the discharge is gray or greenish, has a bad odor, or if there is itching, then it may be an infection and anyone with this problem MUST see a doctor.

Taking too many douches can increase the amount of discharge. For the most part women are better off to avoid douching with anything except water containing a little salt or vinegar and restricting their efforts to external hygiene, unless advised to do so by their doctor for an infection.

Here is an item of interest to young mothers or those about to be. Cigarettes have just been linked to an increased likelihood of convulsions in babies of smoking mothers. If you want to help protect your child from having fits, don't smoke. The study began in Britain in 1958 with a survey of 17,000 babies born in one week. The studies 12 years later reveal that 18 per cent of the mothers who smoked 10 or more cigarettes a day had children who had convulsions, while only 13 per cent of the mothers who did not smoke had this difficulty.

Please send your questions and comments to Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Lamb cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

North's two-heart call was one of those cue bids. With a sound opening spade bid opposite his partner's vulnerable double he wanted to force his partner to bid so as to be sure to reach some game contract.

East cashed two hearts and shifted to his singleton spade. South cashed four rounds of trumps and the three top diamonds. Then he led ace and another club. East took his two top clubs. Down one!

South was bitter about the whole thing. "Why does it always happen to me?" he moaned. "I never get any breaks."

"You might try playing a little better," suggested North. "Once the heart was opened you were sure of 10 tricks if you bothered to use the R of the code word ARCH."

R stands for Review of the bidding. South should have tried to figure out what East had for his vulnerable opening bid. South was looking at every point-count card except the ace and king of hearts and the king and queen of clubs. East needed

Saul Bellow

Choice for Book Award

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Saul Bellow has won the 1970 National Book Awards fiction prize for "Mr. Sammler's Planet" in ceremonies marked by a tempest in the poet's corner.

Bellow was the unanimous choice of the fiction judges but in naming Mona Van Duyn winner in that category for "To See, To Take," Dissenting was poet Allen Ginsberg who took the podium during the ceremonies at the Hotel Biltmore Tuesday to denounce the choice of his fellow jurors as "ignominious, insensitive and mediocre." He supported Gregory Corso's "Elegaic Feelings American."

Earlier the entire poetry panel had rejected every one of the titles nominated through a nationwide poll of librarians, book-sellers and critics and substituted their own nominees.

Similarly dismissed after nomination was Erich Segal's best selling novel "Love Story." It was eliminated in January after the fiction panel termed it "unworthy" and threatened to resign en masse unless it was withdrawn.

Bellow's award was his third. His previous winners were "The Adventures of Augie March" in 1954 and "Herzog" in 1965.

"Mr. Sammler's Planet," published by Viking Press, is the story of a half-blind old Pole who wanders through New York's Upper West Side while speculating on the future of the planet.

The awards are sponsored by the National Book Committee, a nonprofit trade association, and are presented in seven categories. Each award carries a $1,000 cash prize.

The other categories and winners were:
Arts and Letters—"Cocteau," a biography of Jean Cocteau by Francis Steegmuller, published by Atlantic, Little, Brown.
History and Biography—"Roosevelt—The Soldier of Freedom," a study of the wartime president by James MacGregor Burns of Williams College. It was published by Harcourt Brace Jovanovich.
Children's Books—"The Marvelous Misadventures of Sebastian," by Lloyd Alexander, published by E.P. Dutton.
The Sciences—"Science in the British Colonies of America," by Raymond Phineas Stearns, published by the University of Illinois Press.
Translation—A dual award went to Frank Jones for his translation of Bertolt Brecht's "Saint Joan of the Stockyards," published by the Indiana University Press, and to Edward G. Seidensticker for his translation of Yasunari Kawabata's "The Sound of the Mountain," published by Alfred A. Knopf.

SO TIRED they sleep where they drop, three American soldiers catch naps when they can at Khe Sanh, advance base for the Laos operation.

"I Shall Keep This Lent"

"LENT" means springtime. It is an old Latin word which means a forty day fasting period next before Easter. It begins with Ash Wednesday and continues till Easter, exclusive of Sundays.

It is a time for the conditioning of our soil . . . a time for our Souls to become penitent. It simply means that it is spading up time, the season for planting seeds and for setting blooming trees.

In the realm of the spirit it is a call to get ready for the season of beauty and goodness.

Who amongst us is satisfied with what he is or what he has been? Then let us qualify for the Lenten Season. Let us clear away the rubbish of last year's crop, cut under the old stalks. May we learn from our Lord to give ourselves to good conditioning during Lent. The miracle of Lent is genuine repentance which leads to Newness of Life. A Saintly Keeper of Lent said it well when he spoke the words, "I shall keep this Lent, and hope to refresh my Soul." Amen

Rogers Goes Before the Senate Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — William P. Rogers, defended by President Nixon as his secretary of state in function as well as title, had a date today with a Senate panel which really wants to hear from Henry A. Kissinger but can't get him.

In his Thursday news conference, Nixon firmly supported Rogers, "my oldest and closest friend in the Cabinet," against the assertion of Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., that White House national security affairs adviser Kissinger has become secretary of state in everything but name.

Sen. J.W. Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, which called today's hearings, made much the same point in proposing a bill aimed at requiring Kissinger to come before the panel, even if he refuses to say anything when he gets there.

Kissinger, Fulbright said, "has steadfastly refused to appear before any congressional committee, either in public or in private."

"The result is that the people's representatives in Congress are denied direct access not only to the President himself, but to the individual who is the President's chief foreign policy adviser," Fulbright said in a speech prepared for the Senate today.

Nixon said Rogers participates in every decision he makes, and will continue to do so. He said he respects Kissinger's advice as well.

Nixon told the news conference that the secretary of state "is always the chief foreign-policy adviser and the chief foreign-policy spokesman of the administration."

He also defended the concept of executive privilege, under which Kissinger has declined to appear before Congress, as "essential for the orderly processes of government."

Rogers' appearance today was to urge Senate approval of a 46-year-old treaty against use of chemical and biological weapons.

A large brain does not indicate superior intelligence.

YOUTH BEAT

Getting It On Your Chest

By ROGER DOUGHTY

GETTING SENSITIVE—Ah, yes, friends, those wonderful folks who brought you Sensitivity cards (the ones with the neat messages, like "Let Me Be Me" and things) have now come out with Sensitivity shirts, with the same kind of slogans. Now you can walk around with things on your chest like "My Experience Has Taught Me Things, Too," if indeed it has. The idea, according to Dr. David Viscott, who came up with the whole thing, is that "a sweatshirt is a billboard for the person wearing it." You could, of course, make your own if you don't dig any of the mass-produced messages. What would yours be? We'd like to know (as you can see, we don't have much to think about these days) so write to "Everything You Always Wanted to Have Your Sweatshirt Say, but Didn't Know They Could," care of Ken Irsay, 44 East 53rd St., New York, N.Y.

NERFING ALONG—Our John David Alber, current champion, who refused to give up his Nerf Ball for 37 straight days before his mother finally pried it away from him. Right On, John.

MISSING—Hard to believe, it's true, but the little guy in France who made the houses for the super special Monopoly sets (for executives and Monopoly hustlers) has disappeared, taking the mold with him. So, no more super Monopoly sets. Know where he's at?

MORE GAME STUFF—Tearing through the annual Toy Show in New York the other day, your Youth Beat correspondent noted that the times they are a changing, like in real life. Take for instance the game of Careers, a big seller for a long time. For the first time this year it has a section on ecology, what with that being all the rage these days. Tough to keep up with those game folks.

RECORD OF THE YEAR—The people who come up with the Grammy nominations didn't pick it, but we still feel the best single of 1970 was "The Crippled Lion," by Mike Nesmith, with his Magnetic South being one of the top LPs as well. For '71 we look for John Stewart, late (late, late for that matter) of the Kingston Trio to make it big. Caught him recently at New York's Bitter End and he's right now in a class with James Taylor and Elton John (to name a couple), just waiting for the big things to happen.

STILL TAKING TIME—We're still very interested in hearing about young people who have taken the time to get involved in worthwhile projects in their communities, which is why the Project Take Time to Get Involved is still going strong. Know of a teen in your city who has made life a bit nicer for somebody (or maybe a lot of people)? If you do, we'd like to hear about her or him. Fill us in, care of this paper.

Defendant Virtually Ignored

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — The defendant, Lt. William L. Calley Jr., is being virtually ignored in this stage of his murder trial as the jury seeks to search higher in the line of command for the answer to what happened at My Lai and why.

The questions to witnesses continued to concentrate on the briefing Calley and his men received from their company commander on the eve of the March 16, 1968, infantry sweep through the Vietnamese village.

The prosecution hopes to show Calley's instructions did not include the killing of non-combatants.

Efforts by the combat-experienced jury to widen the scope of the trial—through their questions and requests for witnesses that now include a major-general—brought a stern rebuke Thursday from Judge Reid Kennedy.

"I want you to clearly understand you are not here to investigate the operations of Task Force Barker," he said, addressing himself to the colonel, four majors and a captain on the jury.

Calley, a platoon leader in one of the companies that comprised the task force, is being tried on charges that he killed 70 unresisting civilians in one instance, 30 in another, plus a man and a child.

"We all want you to gather as much information as possible under the legal rules," Kennedy told the jurors. But, he said, the only questions they must resolve are "whether Lt. Calley committed the acts alleged by the government and whether Lt. Calley was following orders."

The judge said he would screen questions and requests for witnesses to determine whether they are designed merely to satisfy your curiosity."

The jurors responded Thursday to the judge's request Wednesday for a list of witnesses they wish to hear when both sides have rested. The list included these names: — Capt. Ernest Medina, 34, Calley's company commander, who is under pretrial investigation on charges that he bore over-all responsibility for the civilian deaths in May Lai. Medina's lawyers have volunteered his testimony as a prosecution witness.

—Col. Oran K. Henderson, who took over the command of the 11th Infantry Brigade the day before Calley's platoon entered May Lai. Henderson has been ordered court-martialed on charges that he was derelict in his duty for not reporting the alleged massacre.

—Maj. Gen. Samuel W. Koster, commanding general of the task force's parent American Division, later superintendent at West Point, who was once charged with a coverup. The Army later dismissed the charge and substituted a reprimand.

—Brig. Gen. Andrew Lipscomb, who preceded Henderson in his job.

—Brig. Gen. George H. Young Jr., assistant commander of the American, one of the 13 officers charged with a coverup and later cleared of the charge.

—Maj. Robert N. McKnight, 37, a division operations officer and another who once was charged with a coverup.

Instructor, Hope High School; Mrs. James Voss (unable to see in picture); Mrs. Joan Noesser, Home Economics Instructor, Blevins; Mrs. James Thurman, Blevins. This group represents various organizational groups.

This group was interested in listing some helps they felt homeowners needed. The list included such minor repair and maintenance skills as repairing toilet tanks, leaky faucets, electric plugs, lighting pilots on gas appliances, wiring a lamp, how to fasten anything to any kind of wall, repairing sticking windows, hanging doors, electric circuits, and use and care of household appliances.

The Extension Service is organizing an 8-hour "Fix-It" Short Course to be held March 18 - 19, at the Coliseum in Fair Park. Sessions will be held from 9:00 - 11:00 a.m. - 1:00 - 3:00 p.m. each day with different ideas and skills shown at each session. Elizabeth Ellis, Extension Equipment Specialist, will be illustrating the "whys and hows" to help homeowners properly care for equipment as well as locate minor troubles and make simple repairs. Exhibits will be prepared through the cooperation of Hope dealers to provide those attending an opportunity to "learn by doing". Home reference booklets will be available to those attending.

The Extension Service emphasizes that this training is not to replace services needed by the professional serviceman but to cut the costs of simple maintenance and equipment repairs.

Does this short course sound interesting to you? Enroll! Now! Register in the County Extension Office. Call 777-5771. There will be no charge for the training.

Save future time and frustration by planning to take-the-time to attend this training.
